I'm Asya, a young and enthusiastic Frontend developer. I'm specialized in JavaScript, Bootstrap, Tailwind and React. I really enjoy coding and am constantly striving to improve my skills. A Computer engineering student also with a passion for Math that's a little too much. "Crossing the boundary from things you know to things you don't" is my motto for 2024.

Experienced in working with cross-functional teams to understand project requirements and deliver quality results. Passionate about creating seamless user experiences and continuously learning and exploring new technologies.
